The Biblical Parenting Coaching Program is an 8-week strategic training of the heart of a child by working with the parent. Parents watch videos and meet with a coach who gives them specific training exercises for the week. Children respond best to a heart-based approach and major changes take place in the lives of children in a short period of time. These changes are often unbelievable and miraculous. Coaches get to watch God's grace at work in the lives of families, one family at a time.

The cost of the training is $595. During the class you actually work with a parent under the mentorship of Scott Turansky along with others in an online environment.
